FULL-STACK DEVELOPER, BUSINESS OWNER

PROFILE

A full-stack developer and business owner.

I believe that I have the ability to learn operating systems and work disciplines extremely quickly, and thrive on new challenges.

I consider myself to be self-motivated and pay a great deal of attention to detail. One of my attributes is being able to recognize and deal with situations quickly and efficiently and completing whatever task is put before me. Furthermore, I am able to work in both structured and independent environments where my ability to think outside the box helps me surpass my targets. I consider myself to be punctual, polite, and well mannered.

Personal growth and progression are very important to me, I attend regular classes and seminars and enjoy meeting new people wherever in the world I may be.
